

Events on Long Island for Jan. 26 to Feb. 1

JAN. 23, 2014

Spoken Word

LAWRENCE Peninsula Public Library “Otto Dix, Egon Schiele and Max Pechstein: The Human Beast,” an illustrated art lecture, with Thomas Germano, art historian and professor of art history, SUNY Farmingdale. Jan. 30 at 1 p.m. Free. Duccio and the Trecento School in Siena: Illustrated Art Lecture, with Ines Powell, art historian and lecturer at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Feb. 6 at 1 p.m. Free. Peninsula Public Library, 280 Central Avenue. (516) 239-3262; nassaulibrary.org/peninsula.

OYSTER BAY The Koenig Center “The Other Side,” an illustrated lecture by Xiomaro, based on his photographic series devoted to the slaves’ burial ground at the William Floyd Estate in Mastic, Long Island. Feb. 9 at 2 p.m. Free. Oyster Bay Historical Society’s Koenig Center, 20 Summit Street. (516) 922-5032; oysterbayhistorical.org

Theater

BROOKVILLE Tilles Center for the Performing Arts “Memphis,” a musical by David Bryan and Joe DiPietro. Jan. 31 at 8 p.m. $53 to $86. “Stuck,” presented by the Big Wooden Horse Theater, based on the book by Oliver Jeffers. Feb. 9 at 11 a.m. $15 and $23. Tilles Center for the Performing Arts, 720 Northern Boulevard. (516) 299-3100; tillescenter.org.